

Countries with the most prosperous populations tend to have high shares of human capital wealth, and low shares of wealth from natural resources

Source: The Changing Wealth of Nations (World Bank, 2018)

Graphic: John Burn-Murdoch / @jburnmurdoch

© FT